CHAPTER 1

Choose the Right Private Party Boat

The first step is choosing the right boat for your group. For a special celebration, consider a private yacht with plenty of room to socialize, enjoy drinks, listen to music, and relax in the sunshine. A spacious 55-foot private yacht can provide an excellent setting for a group of friends celebrating a wedding, a bachelor party, or a tropical vacation together.

Before booking, confirm the following details with your boat operator:

- The maximum permitted passenger capacity.
- The length of the private charter.
- Whether the charter includes a captain and crew.
- Available seating, shaded areas, and onboard amenities.
- Whether swimming stops are permitted and weather-dependent.
- What food, drinks, and entertainment are included.

Booking a private yacht allows your group to enjoy the celebration together without sharing the experience with strangers.

CHAPTER 2

Plan a Bachelor Party on the Water

Jaco Beach is a popular destination for groups looking for an exciting tropical getaway. A private party boat is an excellent addition to a bachelor party itinerary because it gives the entire group time to celebrate away from the crowds.

Picture your friends cruising along Costa Rica's Pacific coastline, enjoying upbeat music, cold beverages, catered food, and beautiful ocean views. Guests can socialize on deck, take photos, relax in the sun, and make memories before the wedding day arrives. To make the experience even better, coordinate your boat charter with your other activities in Jaco Beach — a surf lesson, an ATV adventure, a private chef dinner, or a night out in town on another day.

> Planning tip: Schedule your party boat early in the trip so you have flexibility if the weather requires a change of plans.

CHAPTER 3

Make It Special for Wedding Groups

A private party boat can also be a fantastic activity for destination wedding guests visiting Costa Rica. Whether you're organizing a bachelor or bachelorette party, a pre-wedding celebration, or a group outing before the ceremony, a private charter gives friends and family a chance to spend quality time together.

Consider creating a personalized experience with:

- Tropical cocktails and refreshing nonalcoholic drinks.
- Catered appetizers, fresh fruit, and a delicious lunch.
- A playlist featuring the wedding group's favorite music.
- Coordinated outfits or matching shirts for photos.
- A special toast to the bride and groom.
- Time to relax and enjoy the Pacific Ocean scenery.

If you're planning a larger destination wedding, a boat excursion can be a memorable addition to the overall wedding itinerary.

CHAPTER 4

Arrange Food, Drinks, and Entertainment

Food and drinks can make a big difference in the overall party boat experience. Before your charter, ask whether catering is included or available as an upgrade. Depending on the operator's policies, your group may be able to arrange sandwiches, fresh tropical fruit, appetizers, seafood, or other party-friendly meals.

You should also confirm whether beer, wine, spirits, mixers, ice, and other beverages are provided or whether guests may bring their own. Music is another important detail — ask whether the yacht has a quality onboard sound system and whether there are any volume restrictions. For an upscale celebration, consider coordinating private chef services or a special meal before or after the boat trip through Jaco Beach Chef.

> Always follow the captain's safety instructions, avoid excessive alcohol consumption, and never swim while impaired.

CHAPTER 5

Choose the Best Time for Your Charter

Costa Rica's Pacific coast has a tropical climate, and weather conditions can affect your boating experience. Many groups prefer a daytime charter to enjoy the sunshine, blue water, coastal scenery, and opportunities for photos. Others may prefer a late-afternoon departure, depending on the operator's schedule and local conditions.

When selecting your date, consider the wedding schedule, arrival times, transportation arrangements, and other planned activities. During busy travel periods and popular wedding seasons, reserving your private yacht in advance is a smart move. Remember that the captain may adjust the route, swimming stops, or departure plans based on weather and ocean conditions.

CHAPTER 6

Budget for Your Private Party Boat

A private yacht charter is often one of the highlights of a group vacation, especially when the cost is shared among the guests. For example, a private party boat package priced at $1,750 for four hours for 10 people works out to $175 per person when all 10 guests participate.

That price should be confirmed with the operator, including exactly what is included in the charter. Ask about catering, beverages, fuel, crew, gratuities, transportation, and any additional fees before making your reservation. Planning the budget in advance helps everyone understand the costs and makes it easier to organize a celebration that suits the group.

CHAPTER 7

Coordinate Transportation & Your Other Activities

Getting everyone to the marina on time is an important part of a successful group outing. If your group is staying in a private villa, hotel, or vacation rental in Jaco Beach, arrange transportation to the departure location and confirm the meeting time with the boat operator. Allow extra time for traffic, parking, and gathering the group before departure.

For wedding groups and bachelor parties, coordinating the boat charter with other activities can make the entire trip easier to manage. Jaco Beach Chef can help visitors explore options for private chef services, villa rentals, tours, and other experiences to complement their Costa Rica getaway.

CHAPTER 8

Make Safety Part of the Plan

A great party should also be a safe party. Before departure, verify the charter's passenger capacity, safety equipment, cancellation policy, and weather procedures. Follow the captain's directions and use appropriate sun protection throughout the trip.

If your group plans to swim, only do so when the captain confirms that conditions and the location are safe. Keep alcohol consumption moderate and designate responsible people to help the group stay organized. Taking care of these details lets everyone relax and enjoy the experience.
